The Beer Pack Range

BETT-A-BREW BEER PACKS are designed first and foremost to ensure your brewing success.

Made from a selective blend of the finest barley malts, and Australian and Imported Hops, the range of Bett-A-Brew 1.9kg and specialised 3.4kg beer packs are unsurpassed in quality.

contributed to a satisfying range of flavours, aromas, and colours throughout our beer pack range.

(These Barley Malt extracts comply with the highest food grade standards (ISO 9001:2000 Certification) and are free of genetically modified organisms (GMO free).

The Ingredients

BARLEY MALT EXTRACT

The largest volume ingredient used in all our beer packs is pure Barley Malt Extract. Malt extract contributes significantly to the body, colour, mouth feel and flavour of the beer.

It is of paramount importance that the malt extract used is developed specifically for the brewing industry. Lesser quality malt extracts, or extracts intended for the bakery or confectionery market are often mistakenly used by home brewers resulting in inferior brewing results.

This is where Bett-A-Brew beer packs have the edge to deliver quality brewing results and variety for you... every time.

The pure Brewing grade, Barley malt extracts used in all Bett-A-Brew beer packs contribute to a range of flavour-some beers ready for your brewing enjoyment. The skill and craft of the professional brewing maltster have

HOPS

Although used in very small proportions, HOPS play the next major role giving the beer its traditional hop flavour and aroma. Bett-A-Brew beer packs are made using a blend of natural Hop extracts incorporating Kettle extracts, Co2 extracts, hop oils and resins, all contributing to a full natural hop flavour right throughout the beer range.

BREWING YEAST

Never underestimate the role that yeast plays in perfecting the transformation of ingredients into beer. Each Bett-A-Brew beer pack is matched with a quality pure strain beer yeast suitable for closed fermentation. (under airlock).
